

Anne Lamb

Administrative Specialist, Policy Programming

Anne Lamb is an administrative specialist for policy programming at the Stanley Center for Peace and Security, where she provides administrative and programming support to the director of policy programming strategy and the entire policy programming team.

After college, Lamb held an internship with the Stanley Center before continuing her career in customer service and administrative support at the Kent Pet Group and Stanley Consultants. She returned to the Stanley Center in 2018.

Lamb has a BA in English from Iowa State University.