

Nicole Olvera-Fout

Operations Administrative Specialist

Nicole Olvera-Fout is an operations administrative specialist at the Stanley Center for Peace and Security, where she provides administrative support to the operations and communications teams.

Before joining the Stanley Center, Olvera-Fout had administrative and operations roles at the John Deere Foundation, where she managed its in-kind donation grant requests, coordinated events with the Quad Cities Chamber of Commerce and United Way, and assisted with employee gift programs. In addition to her professional background in the nonprofit sector, Olvera-Fout helped found Opportunity Kicks, a not-for-profit organization that provides inner-city children with the opportunity to play competitive soccer for little to no cost.

Olvera-Fout has a BS in commercial recreation from the University of Iowa with an emphasis on business.
